

lyrics:

Running from the pond
I see fireflies in the air

Lost a pastel blinking watch
Meet you over there

Neatly tucked under the shelf
A dusted stack of memories
Now I'm just the gallery

Rusted thoughts blurring your sight
A youth left unwritten
Pulls apart our distance

And a loss of words can tear me down
'Cause I wanna breathe out
Breathe alone

'Cause I might be the one
To tear it all down
(I don't wanna)

Racing thoughts under the hood
Tired of the paradigm
Sharing's for another time

Guess I won't be built to bear my being alone
As I see the deeds cast down
They can keep the crown

'Cause I will be the one
