

Chapter 22 - I'm going crazy.

The red-haired girl was as tall as Nahida. Nahida recognized the girl because of her hair and also because of her uniform. Also, the boy in her back was very recognizable.

'Rias and Issei...' Nahida paled for a moment. Not from the shock of meeting them but from Rias' lush beauty. It was such a unique beauty that he practically forgot how to speak.

"Excuse me, can we stay here for the night?" Rias said. She was in a hurry to get up to a room. Although the injuries on her and Issei's body weren't serious, she was worried about him.

"Oh, sure. You can come up and pay later." Nahida took one of the room keys and handed it to Rias.

"Thanks a lot. I owe you one." Rias ran up the stairs and entered one of the rooms. After entering, she placed Issei on one of the beds and soon began to take off her clothes, leaving only her underwear on.

She also removed Issei's clothes, leaving him only in his underwear.

The wounds on Issei's body stained the bed sheet with blood, but Rias didn't care about that; she only cared about healing him. She lay and hugged him, burying his face in her breasts.

That was the way she would heal him.

On the morning of the next day, Nahida had finally reached level 8, and he also had a pleasant surprise.

[Thanks to the 100% bonus, you will get an extra point at every level].

Now, Nahida's points gain would increase by 2 at each level. He now will receive 9 points per hour, even though he was at level 8. Nahida had forgotten about this bonus.

He searched in his mind and remembered that he got the bonus when he improved the structure of his hotel. However, he was so shocked when his building started to be modified that he had forgotten about it.

"And... let's do this."

[You have acquired a new room! -200]

Nahida bought a new room using a good portion of his points. Now he had 7 rooms.

"I'll start 'advertising' my hotel when the number of rooms is slightly bigger. But how many rooms will fit on the second floor?" Nahida had looked at his hotel from the outside, and nothing had changed.

Even though a new bedroom was built and the corridor increased, the outside had not changed. It was as if a new dimension had been created in there, and only the inside was increasing in size.

But that is good. If his hotel stayed the same size, it could take up little space even though it had many rooms.

"But the system can create new floors, no? It would be amazing." Nahida could probably acquire new floors in the future.

Nahida then went to the kitchen, where he talked to Lucky to start preparing the food. The guests were already coming down. And the guests were only Rias and Issei.

"Make the best food you can; those guests are important."

"Are you sure? The good quality meat is almost gone."

"How? We've hardly had any guests."

"Well..."

"Don't tell me you ate?" Nahida asked, and Lucky remained silent. Nahida sighed and slapped his forehead. "Alright, prepare the rest of the meat for those guests; I'll buy more this afternoon."

"Right..."

Nahida couldn't understand. Wasn't Lucky a robot like Shelly?

'But if I remember correctly, Shelly even drank water...' That was so strange. They were like real people.

Rias went downstairs alone. Nahida approached her with a smile and invited her to eat something. He decided to offer the food for free to both of them.

They were injured, so something bad happened. Nahida wanted to at least help them by giving them something to eat and recover their energy.

"Hmm, this is very good," Rias said as she tasted the food served by Nahida.

"It's good that you liked it. Oh, and about your friend."

"He's still asleep, but he'll wake up soon." Rias smiled weakly and put another portion of food in her mouth. Nahida stood there briefly before moving away from Rias' table.

She finished eating quickly and stood up.

"I'll go upstairs now and come down in a bit. About the money, I'll pay you back later."

"Don't worry about it."

Rias arrived upstairs in less than one minute. When she reached the hallway, she saw that the hallway had increased a bit, and a new door had appeared. "What happened?"

She remembers feeling the building shake a little while lying down, but she thought it was just a weak, momentary earthquake, which was somewhat common.

"But it wasn't that... A new bedroom appeared." Without caring, she opened the door to the room and saw that it looked the same as the one she was staying in with Issei. "Did that guy use some kind of magic?"

Rias was a little suspicious of Nahida.

"Why would someone use an ability for something like that?" Nahida didn't seem like a bad person.

"Maybe I'm wrong. Maybe last night there were seven rooms, and I'm going crazy... I was so worried about Issei that I wasn't paying much attention."

The room Rias was staying in was far from where the new room had appeared. She would surely have noticed the difference if her room had been next door.

"I think I'm going crazy."

Rias and Issei came downstairs a few minutes later. Besides them, a new character was also in the hotel, Rimuru. He appeared a minute before Rias and Issei reached downstairs.

"Huh?" They stared at each other briefly when Rimuru saw the two. Rias' brow furrowed.
"Who are they?" Rimuru asked Nahida with a smile on his face.

"They're new guests who arrived yesterday. Her name is Rias, and his name is Issei."

"And who is she?" Issei asked.

"He's Rimuru. He's not a girl." Nahida smiled bitterly.

"Not a girl?!" Rias exclaimed in surprise. "It's impossible that he's not a girl. What are you? How can you look so good even though you're a man?"

"How can I tell... I don't know?" Rimuru did not want to explain how he had gained that appearance to the two. He knew they were characters from another world since they didn't know who he was.

Rimuru was famous in his world for being a very strong Slime; it was impossible for Rias and Issei not to recognize him if they were from the same world.

"I see. Rias, can we go now? I don't think they're still after us."

"Who's after you?" Rimuru jumped out of his chair like a cute girl. Nahida couldn't get enough of staying by Rimuru's side. Maybe he was developing feelings for a Slime?

But if that's happening, he's only developing feelings for Rimuru's appearance.

"They-"

"Rias, don't say anything. We don't know who those two are. Isn't he a bit strange?" Issei said while staring at Rimuru.

Rimuru pointed at himself and tilted his head. "Hahaha. It's okay. I won't do anything; I just came here to talk to my friend. I'm going now, have fun."

"Okay, see you later," Nahida said goodbye to Rimuru.

Rimuru said goodbye to Rias and Issei and left the hotel. Before leaving, Rimuru couldn't help but look at every detail of Rias' body, which was wonderful. She was the woman with the best body he had ever seen.

Not even Shion could compare to that.

"Alright, I'll serve the food for you if you want. What do you think?"

"I don't want to eat anything-" However, Issei's stomach rumbled.

"Come on, eat first before we can leave. The food is very tasty."

"Right, right, I'll eat."

"I'll bring the plates." Nahida went to the kitchen and took the food. He served the dishes and then watched from afar as Issei ate. Rias looked at Issei with a cute smile.

Nahida could tell that she liked him quite a bit.

'What point in the story are they at?'
